“ Some people's lives evoke abundant joy. My dear Aunt Celestine was one of those individuals. During her homegoing service today, which I had the privilege of attending remotely from New York City, I was comforted by poignant words and fond memories -- one in particular of being four years old and spending the night at Aunt Stel and Uncle George's home at 10 North Leroy Street, Metter, GA. As a NYC kid, I delighted in the opportunity to run barefoot and shirtless across the grassy terrain. My cousin, Vanessa and I made a lemonade stand as Aunt Stel issued us the supplies we would need to put in a full-day's work. Well, loved ones, I believe Vanessa and I pulled in an entire 25 cents and were proud! And for a street that had no foot traffic, we were happy that our only customer, Mr. George Peoples, threw back two plastic cups of our lemon concoction to quench his thirst after working the land all morning. These are the kind of memories that bring the dimension of richness and warmth to the grieving process, which we must all traverse eventually. Love you, Aunt Stel! I accept your kind words: "You so preeeeeeeeety!" SIP and see you someday on the other side.

“ My sincere condolences to the family, aunt Cellestine Will truly be missed. The last three times Theresa Elaina and I visited Aunt Cellestine, she asked when were we going to have the Jones Sykes family reunion, we had to tell her we postponed it to a later date because of COVID, you can see the disappointment in her eyes but she said she understood. Aunt Cellestine was one to do her best at keeping the family together and that ran in the family with all of her sisters and brothers she was like a mother to us I will never be forgotten we love you auntie.
