Feel no guilt in laughter, he'd know how much you care.* ”

Feel no sorrow in a smile that he is not here to share.

You cannot grieve forever; he would not want you to.

He'd hope that you could carry on the way you always do.

So, talk about the good times and the way you showed you cared,

The days you spent together, all the happiness you shared.

Let memories surround you, a word someone may say

Will suddenly recapture a time, an hour, a day,

That brings him back as clearly as though he were still here,

And fills you with the feeling that he is always near.

For if you keep those moments, you will never be apart

And he will live forever locked safely within your heart. ”

“Gregory Allen Elliott Sr. was my one and only brother. A brother whom I loved and adored, even cared for when we were children. I have many fond and extraordinary memories of him embedded in my heart. Today, I would like to share a few of them.

As young children, my brother, sister and I were taught to love, respect and protect each other. My brother being the youngest was naughty and mischievous at times. Once, twice, three times or more, (I lost track after the third time.) Greg developed a habit of teasing a few children older than himself. When they couldn't take anymore teasing, they would come after him. But he was a clever little boy who knew he had three forms of protection.

1. Run like the Road Runner!
2. Yell and scream, "Gwen _____ is trying to hurt me!"
3. Yell and scream, "Laverne _____ is trying to beat me up!"

After the commotion would be quelled, Greg would peep from behind my back or my sister's back and stick out his tongue and say, "What ya' gon do now?!"

When Greg was approximately 14, our mother bought a brand new Chevrolet Century. Boy did he love washing that car! He would wash it 3-4 times per week. This continued for about a month or more. One day I he washed the car longer than usual, so I looked outside to see if he'd finished. The car nor Greg was anywhere in sight! I'm sure you can guess the rest. Mother was livid! About an hour later, Greg drove up in front of the house and parked the car perfectly.

My brother wasn't always mischievous, but those are memories that make me smile, chuckle or laugh when I think of them.

My brother, sister and I had an unwavering love for each other which was instilled in us thanks to our mother. I will always be proud of Greg for that same unwavering love he bestowed upon his wife, children, and grandchildren. His family meant the world to him.

Rest in the glory of God little brother. Your spirit will always be a part of us. L♥VE Always, Gwen 💕💕💕💕

I remembered when your mom (Carrieruth) and uncle (Walt) use to come to our house for the 4 Jul ...seen like every year. All of us was really young at the time...We would shoot firecrackers for hours on.. We would stay up all night until morning. Those were the best days we spend with Greg, Laverne, and Gwen. Even tho you're gone, you are still here in spirit . We were cousins. You will be missed. Wanda Sue Thomas
