“ I loved to hear Rebecker speak during Sacrament meeting at church. She was an absolute inspiration to me. When we facebooked, she would "like" my posts about something from the church. She told me that her morning started with my posts about the church from the night before. She always made me feel that what little I did make a difference to her. Before facebook, she would surprise me now and then with an email to make me feel special. I will miss her very much, my dear, sweet sister in Christ, but I will see her again on the other side. May her family be comforted and know that sweet Rebecker is in Paradise. -Marla Riley
