

Mrs. Robbie Faye Jones Parrish

April 5, 2017

On April 5, 2017, after battling illness, Robbie Faye Jones Parrish quietly went to be with the Lord. Born on February 5, 1941, Robbie was the last child of Freddie and Devorah Jones in Register. She attended school in Bulloch County and graduated from William James High in 1959. In 1960 she married C.T. Parrish and their union produced Stanley Wayne, Deborah Kaye and Kathy Lynette, and Angela Denise.

Robbie was a faithful and dedicated member of New Hope Missionary Baptist Church of Register as well as St. Paul A.M.E. Church in Orlando, Florida. In addition to serving the Lord and her family, Robbie completed her degree as a Certified Nursing Assistant and used many talents in the care of patients. After decades with stops at Orlando Regional Medical Center, Lutheran Towers Nursing Home, and various in-home healthcare patients, Mrs. Parrish retired from nursing in 2010.

Robbie was preceded in death by her husband of 50 years, Cornell Thomas; parents, Freddie and Devorah Jones; five sisters, Cora Lee Williams, Eloise Thomas, Mae Parrish, Rev. Lucille Jones Bradley and Evon Young; three brothers, Eugene Jones, Curtis Jones and CW Jones.

She is survived by her four children; three treasured grandchildren, Shannon D. Parrish of Atlanta, Georgia, Trevor Davis (Jennifer) of Orlando, and Macalyn Parrish of Texas; two sisters, Celestine Peoples of Metter, Georgia and Jewel Edwards-Young (Guillermo) of Statesboro, Georgia, and a host of in-laws, nieces, nephews, cousins, friends, and her beloved family dog, Awful.

The funeral services for Mrs. Parrish will be held 11 a.m. Wednesday, April 12, 2017 at the New Hope Missionary Baptist Church, Kennedy Bridge Road, Register, GA. with the Rev. Gregory Thomas, pastor, presiding and the Rev. Cecil Parrish, eulogist. Burial will follow in the church cemetery.
